

PREMIERE AT THE CMT IN STUTTGART: THE OPTIMA ONTOUR EDITION IS NOW AVAILABLE AS A NEW FIAT EDITION

Fockbek, 12. January 2024 – A new year and a new limited special edition from Hobby: The compact OPTIMA ONTOUR EDITION F is built on a Fiat chassis and is ready for any adventure with the renowned “HobbyKomplett” ALL-INCLUSIVE package. However, as a special edition, it has even more to offer and comes with many extras worth over €11,000 included.

The OPTIMA ONTOUR EDITION F with new dynamic edition exterior panelling.

The edition model is based on the well-known layout of the Optima Ontour Edition V65 GE and is incredibly spacious, boasting a wide range of features and equipment, with plenty of room for everything you need on the road. The special edition is now also built on the popular Fiat Ducato chassis with a powerful 140 hp engine and comes with many features that ensure a supremely comfortable ride: original Fiat alloy rims, a leather steering wheel and gearstick, automatic air conditioning and much more besides.

The latest addition is particularly inviting not only on account of its dynamic Edition decals on the exterior, but also thanks to its electric entry step in front of the extra-wide habitation entrance door. The interior has also received a complete makeover. Instead of soft shades of grey, the Edition F features grey upholstery and the cosy Copenhagen/Piquet furniture finish. Thanks to the clever use of space, the compact motorhome has lots of storage space and a payload of 561 kg. This allows campers to take everything with them, without having to worry about every last kilo.
